

Cartoons for the Classroom

Presented by NIEonline.com and the Association of American Editorial Cartoonists (AAEC)

Economy makes Halloween scary

By Joe Heller / Green Bay Press-Gazette, Courtesy Caglecartoons.com

Between the lines

"What you're seeing with the economy, on the job front — it's scaring a lot of people," Brian Fine, Mortgage Master .

"I'm nervous that fear will lead companies to stop hiring and people to stop spending," Jim Paulsen, Wells Capital Management.

<http://www.chron.com/business/article/Stock-market-begins-to-feed-economic-fear-2134525.php>

Talking points

1. Joe Heller and Jeff Stahler joke about economic worries trickling down to kids. Are you worried? Why?
2. Who said, "We have nothing to fear but fear itself?" What was he talking about?
3. Write about how the troubled economy has affected you and your plans.

Additional resources

More by Joe Heller

<http://blog.cagle.com/author/joe-heller/>

More by Jeff Stahler

<http://blog.cagle.com/author/jeff-stahler/>

Association of American Editorial Cartoonists

<http://editorialcartoonists.com/>

By Jeff Stahler / The Columbus Dispatch , Courtesy Caglecartoons.com