

Cartoons for the Classroom

Presented by NIEonline.com and the Association of American Editorial Cartoonists (AAEC)

Make a connection to make a point

By Jonathan Shapiro, Courtesy Caglecartoons.com

Talking points

1. What event do South African cartoonist Jonathan Shapiro, AKA Zapiro, and American artist Joe Heller both use to comment on bicyclist Lance Armstrong?
2. What caused Armstrong to plunge from the top of the cycling world into the pit of disgrace?
3. Can you find other examples of cartoonists using an unrelated event to comment on a subject?

Between the lines

"Lance Armstrong has no place in cycling.... He deserves to be forgotten."
- Pat McQuaid, president of the International Cycling Union.

<http://www.latimes.com/sports/la-sp-lance-armstrong-doping-20121023.0.3697752.story>

Additional resources

More by Jonathon Shapiro
<http://www.cagle.com/author/zapiro/>

More by Joe Heller
<http://www.cagle.com/author/joe-heller/>

Association of American Editorial Cartoonists
<http://editorialcartoonists.com/>

By Joe Heller / Green Bay Press-Gazette, Courtesy Caglecartoons.com