

Cartoons for the Classroom

Presented by NIEonline.com and the Association of American Editorial Cartoonists (AAEC)

Who could impeachment hurt most?

Adam Zyglis, The Buffalo News / Courtesy of Cagle.com

Talking Points

1. What do these cartoons say about recent news events and the possible impeachment of President Donald Trump?
2. Who would suffer most politically if the president is impeached, Trump or the Democrats?
3. Is asking a foreign leader to do a "favor" and investigate a political rival a crime that deserves impeachment? Why or why not?
4. Are Democrats in Congress unfairly victimizing the president? Why or why not?

Between the lines

"It will help the Democrats because they finally did something about him. But I fear it will help Trump, too, because he's always making himself out to be the victim." - Voter Rosa Kee

https://www.washingtonpost.com/politics/across-a-divided-nation-skepticism-about-impeachment/2019/09/27/d7a7a8f6-e001-11e9-be96-6adb81821e90\_story.html

Additional resources

■ More by Adam Zyglis

<https://www.cagle.com/author/adam-zyglis/>

■ More by Gary Varvel

<http://editorialcartoonists.com/cartoon/browse.cfm/VarveG>

■ Association of American Editorial Cartoonists

<http://editorialcartoonists.com/>

Gary Varvel, Indianapolis Star / Courtesy of AAEC