Talking Points

1. What messages are these cartoons sending about the Supreme Court ending the moratorium on evictions?
2. What dangers threaten the up to 1 million households facing eviction by the end of the year?
3. Could evictions worsen the coronavirus pandemic?
4. Could families be separated?
5. Why haven't billions of dollars in rental aid been distributed?
6. If many small "mom and pop" landlords go bankrupt because of lost rent, could affordable housing be even harder to find?

Between the lines

"Not having access to a stable way of sheltering yourself from the pandemic can be very impactful for how the pandemic spreads, not just for you but for your community." - Sebastian Sandoval-Olascoaga, MIT
