Cramer Says He’s Still In

Premier Of Cambodia Asks Nixon For Help

Nixon May End Job Deferments

A Day For Awareness About The Environment

Stepping In For Reap Brown Trial

ON THE INSIDE

Harrington - Florida

Stealing from the public is a graver offense than stealing from the public. — Henry David Thoreau

Nixon May End Job Deferments

New York Times Service

WASHINGTON, May 31 — President Nixon is expected today or tomorrow to announce that draft boards should no longer defer the sons of university professors, lawyers and others in the professions.

Nixon, in a speech tonight in Detroit, said he has asked the armed forces to stop granting deferments to college professors, lawyers, doctors, priests and other professionals.

This is the first indication that Nixon may end the draft deferments. He has been under pressure from many sources to end the deferments, especially in the professions.

The announcement is expected to be made at a White House press conference. The President is scheduled to appear at the conference tonight.

A Day For Awareness About The Environment

The Day of the Environment is April 22. It is a day when millions of Americans — ranging from schoolchildren to college professors, from campus students to environmental activists — will participate in events and activities to protect and improve the environment.

The New York City Parks Department is sponsoring a "Carny Change" program, which includes a "Carny Change" parade and a "Carny Change" picnic.

Stepping In For Reap Brown Trial

Delegate attorney William Kelley is expected to represent Senator Brown. He has indicated that he will not participate in the case.

Nixon May End Job Deferments

New York Times Service

WASHINGTON, May 31 — President Nixon is expected today or tomorrow to announce that draft boards should no longer defer the sons of university professors, lawyers and others in the professions.

Nixon, in a speech tonight in Detroit, said he has asked the armed forces to stop granting deferments to college professors, lawyers, doctors, priests and other professionals.

This is the first indication that Nixon may end the draft deferments. He has been under pressure from many sources to end the deferments, especially in the professions.

The announcement is expected to be made at a White House press conference. The President is scheduled to appear at the conference tonight.

A Day For Awareness About The Environment

The Day of the Environment is April 22. It is a day when millions of Americans — ranging from schoolchildren to college professors, from campus students to environmental activists — will participate in events and activities to protect and improve the environment.

The New York City Parks Department is sponsoring a "Carny Change" program, which includes a "Carny Change" parade and a "Carny Change" picnic.

Stepping In For Reap Brown Trial

Delegate attorney William Kelley is expected to represent Senator Brown. He has indicated that he will not participate in the case.

Nixon May End Job Deferments

New York Times Service

WASHINGTON, May 31 — President Nixon is expected today or tomorrow to announce that draft boards should no longer defer the sons of university professors, lawyers and others in the professions.

Nixon, in a speech tonight in Detroit, said he has asked the armed forces to stop granting deferments to college professors, lawyers, doctors, priests and other professionals.

This is the first indication that Nixon may end the draft deferments. He has been under pressure from many sources to end the deferments, especially in the professions.

The announcement is expected to be made at a White House press conference. The President is scheduled to appear at the conference tonight.

A Day For Awareness About The Environment

The Day of the Environment is April 22. It is a day when millions of Americans — ranging from schoolchildren to college professors, from campus students to environmental activists — will participate in events and activities to protect and improve the environment.

The New York City Parks Department is sponsoring a "Carny Change" program, which includes a "Carny Change" parade and a "Carny Change" picnic.

Stepping In For Reap Brown Trial

Delegate attorney William Kelley is expected to represent Senator Brown. He has indicated that he will not participate in the case.

Nixon May End Job Deferments

New York Times Service

WASHINGTON, May 31 — President Nixon is expected today or tomorrow to announce that draft boards should no longer defer the sons of university professors, lawyers and others in the professions.

Nixon, in a speech tonight in Detroit, said he has asked the armed forces to stop granting deferments to college professors, lawyers, doctors, priests and other professionals.

This is the first indication that Nixon may end the draft deferments. He has been under pressure from many sources to end the deferments, especially in the professions.

The announcement is expected to be made at a White House press conference. The President is scheduled to appear at the conference tonight.

A Day For Awareness About The Environment

The Day of the Environment is April 22. It is a day when millions of Americans — ranging from schoolchildren to college professors, from campus students to environmental activists — will participate in events and activities to protect and improve the environment.

The New York City Parks Department is sponsoring a "Carny Change" program, which includes a "Carny Change" parade and a "Carny Change" picnic.

Stepping In For Reap Brown Trial

Delegate attorney William Kelley is expected to represent Senator Brown. He has indicated that he will not participate in the case.

Nixon May End Job Deferments

New York Times Service

WASHINGTON, May 31 — President Nixon is expected today or tomorrow to announce that draft boards should no longer defer the sons of university professors, lawyers and others in the professions.

Nixon, in a speech tonight in Detroit, said he has asked the armed forces to stop granting deferments to college professors, lawyers, doctors, priests and other professionals.

This is the first indication that Nixon may end the draft deferments. He has been under pressure from many sources to end the deferments, especially in the professions.

The announcement is expected to be made at a White House press conference. The President is scheduled to appear at the conference tonight.

A Day For Awareness About The Environment

The Day of the Environment is April 22. It is a day when millions of Americans — ranging from schoolchildren to college professors, from campus students to environmental activists — will participate in events and activities to protect and improve the environment.

The New York City Parks Department is sponsoring a "Carny Change" program, which includes a "Carny Change" parade and a "Carny Change" picnic.

Stepping In For Reap Brown Trial

Delegate attorney William Kelley is expected to represent Senator Brown. He has indicated that he will not participate in the case.